13 MAR 1978.

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

I apologize to you for my negligence. I am so sorry! For the delay in paying you for all your magnificent work in my behalf. Somehow, I was so intent on the new information you sent to me in your letter dated 6 Nov 1977, that I forgot to send you your pay! Recently, I got to reviewing my info on the Amey's in Ontario, Canada and noted your fee. I pondered if I had paid this fee? I came to the awful conclusion, I had not! What a terrible oversight! Please forgive me, and accept this check with my grateful acknowledgement of all your marvelous work in my behalf. I will feel awful till I hear from you again, forgiving me.

With your help, I have now connected my ancestors from Emily Sophronia Amey - b 20 Aug 1852 back to Johann ^{Nicholas} Nicholas EMIGH - 1710 From Holland.

'Tis a pity we can trace Johann Nicholas Emigh back further in Holland. Have you any ideas on this?

Again, I ask your forgiveness for my negligence.

Thanks, oodles for your help.

• Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum. Chl a is essential for the light-dependent reactions of photosynthesis, where it converts light energy into chemical energy in the form of ATP and NADPH.

Dr. H. C. Burleigh,
Bath, Ont.

Dear Sir,

As an amateur genealogist, I am trying to obtain some information about the early Ameys of the Kingston-Napanee area. A Miss May Amey of Kingston, to whom I wrote after picking her name out of a Kingston phone book, suggested that you might be able to throw some light on the subject, and I am therefore taking the liberty of laying my problem in your lap.

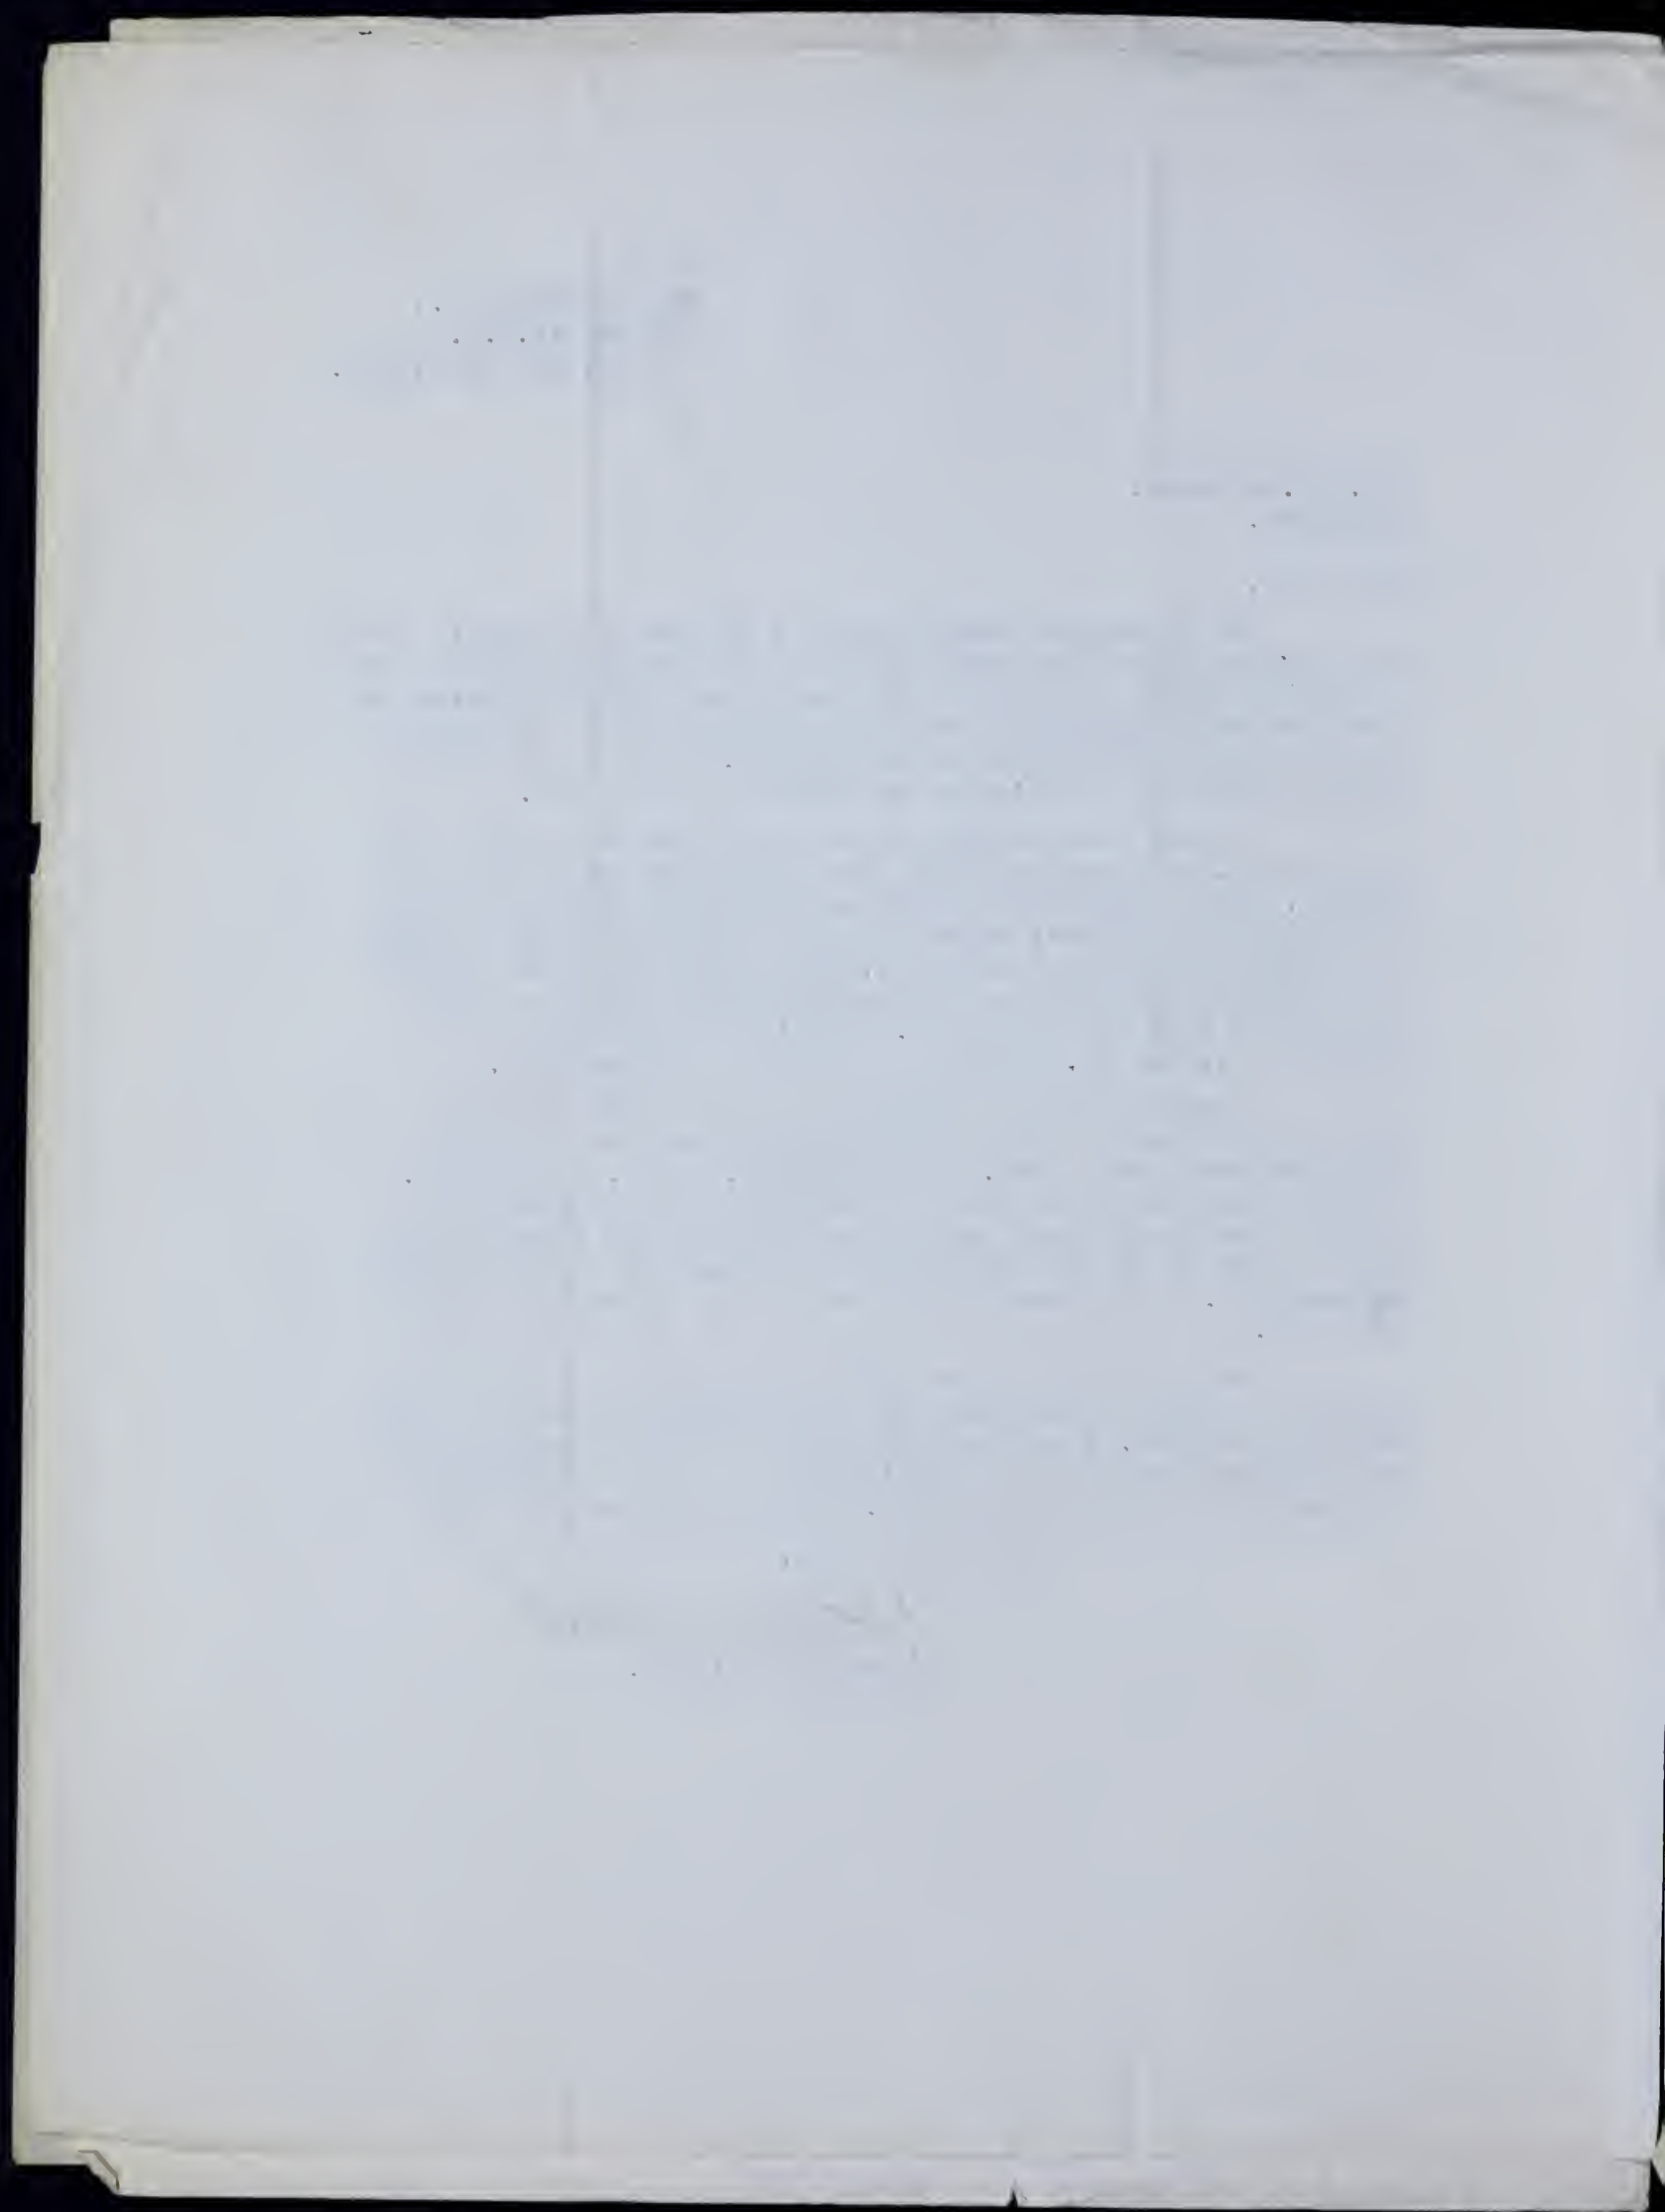

I have been working on my own family tree for a good many years, and more recently have become interested in my wife's. One of her grandmothers was ALICE ANN AMEY, born Sept. 30, 1839, at Millhaven; married Charles Humber. Alice's father was JEREMIAH AMEY of Ernesttown, born about 1809; her mother was MAGDALENE CONSOLUS of Fredericksburgh, born about 1817, died about 1899 at Ernesttown. Jeremiah and Magdelene were married Jan. 19, 1836, at Fredericksburgh or Ernesttown.

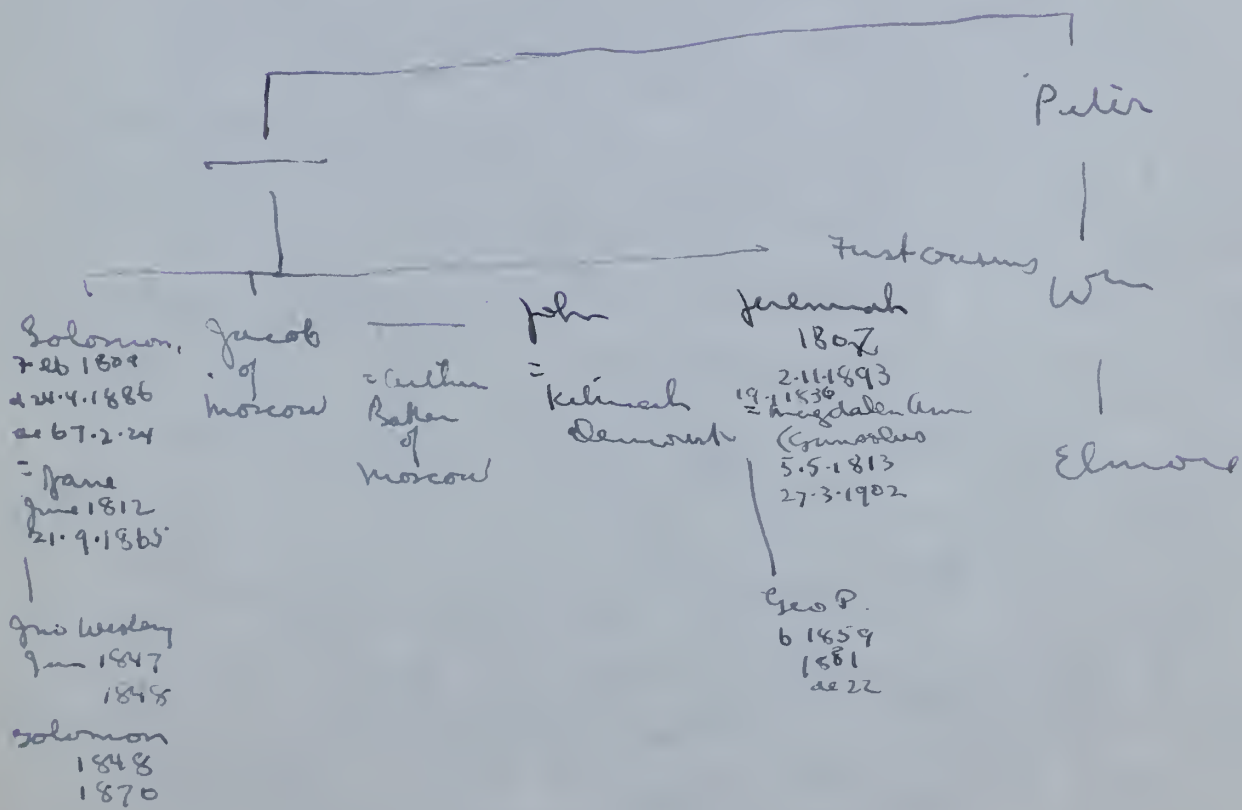

Jeremiah Amey, according to some rather mixed-up information from my wife's aged aunt (a daughter of Alice), had five brothers - John, Adam, Solomon, David, and Daniel. I think that they were sons of John Amey, who in turn was a son of John Jonas Amey, one of the two Loyalist Ameys, but we should like to get the records straightened out and confirmed if possible. There seem to have been a lot of early Ameys in the area.

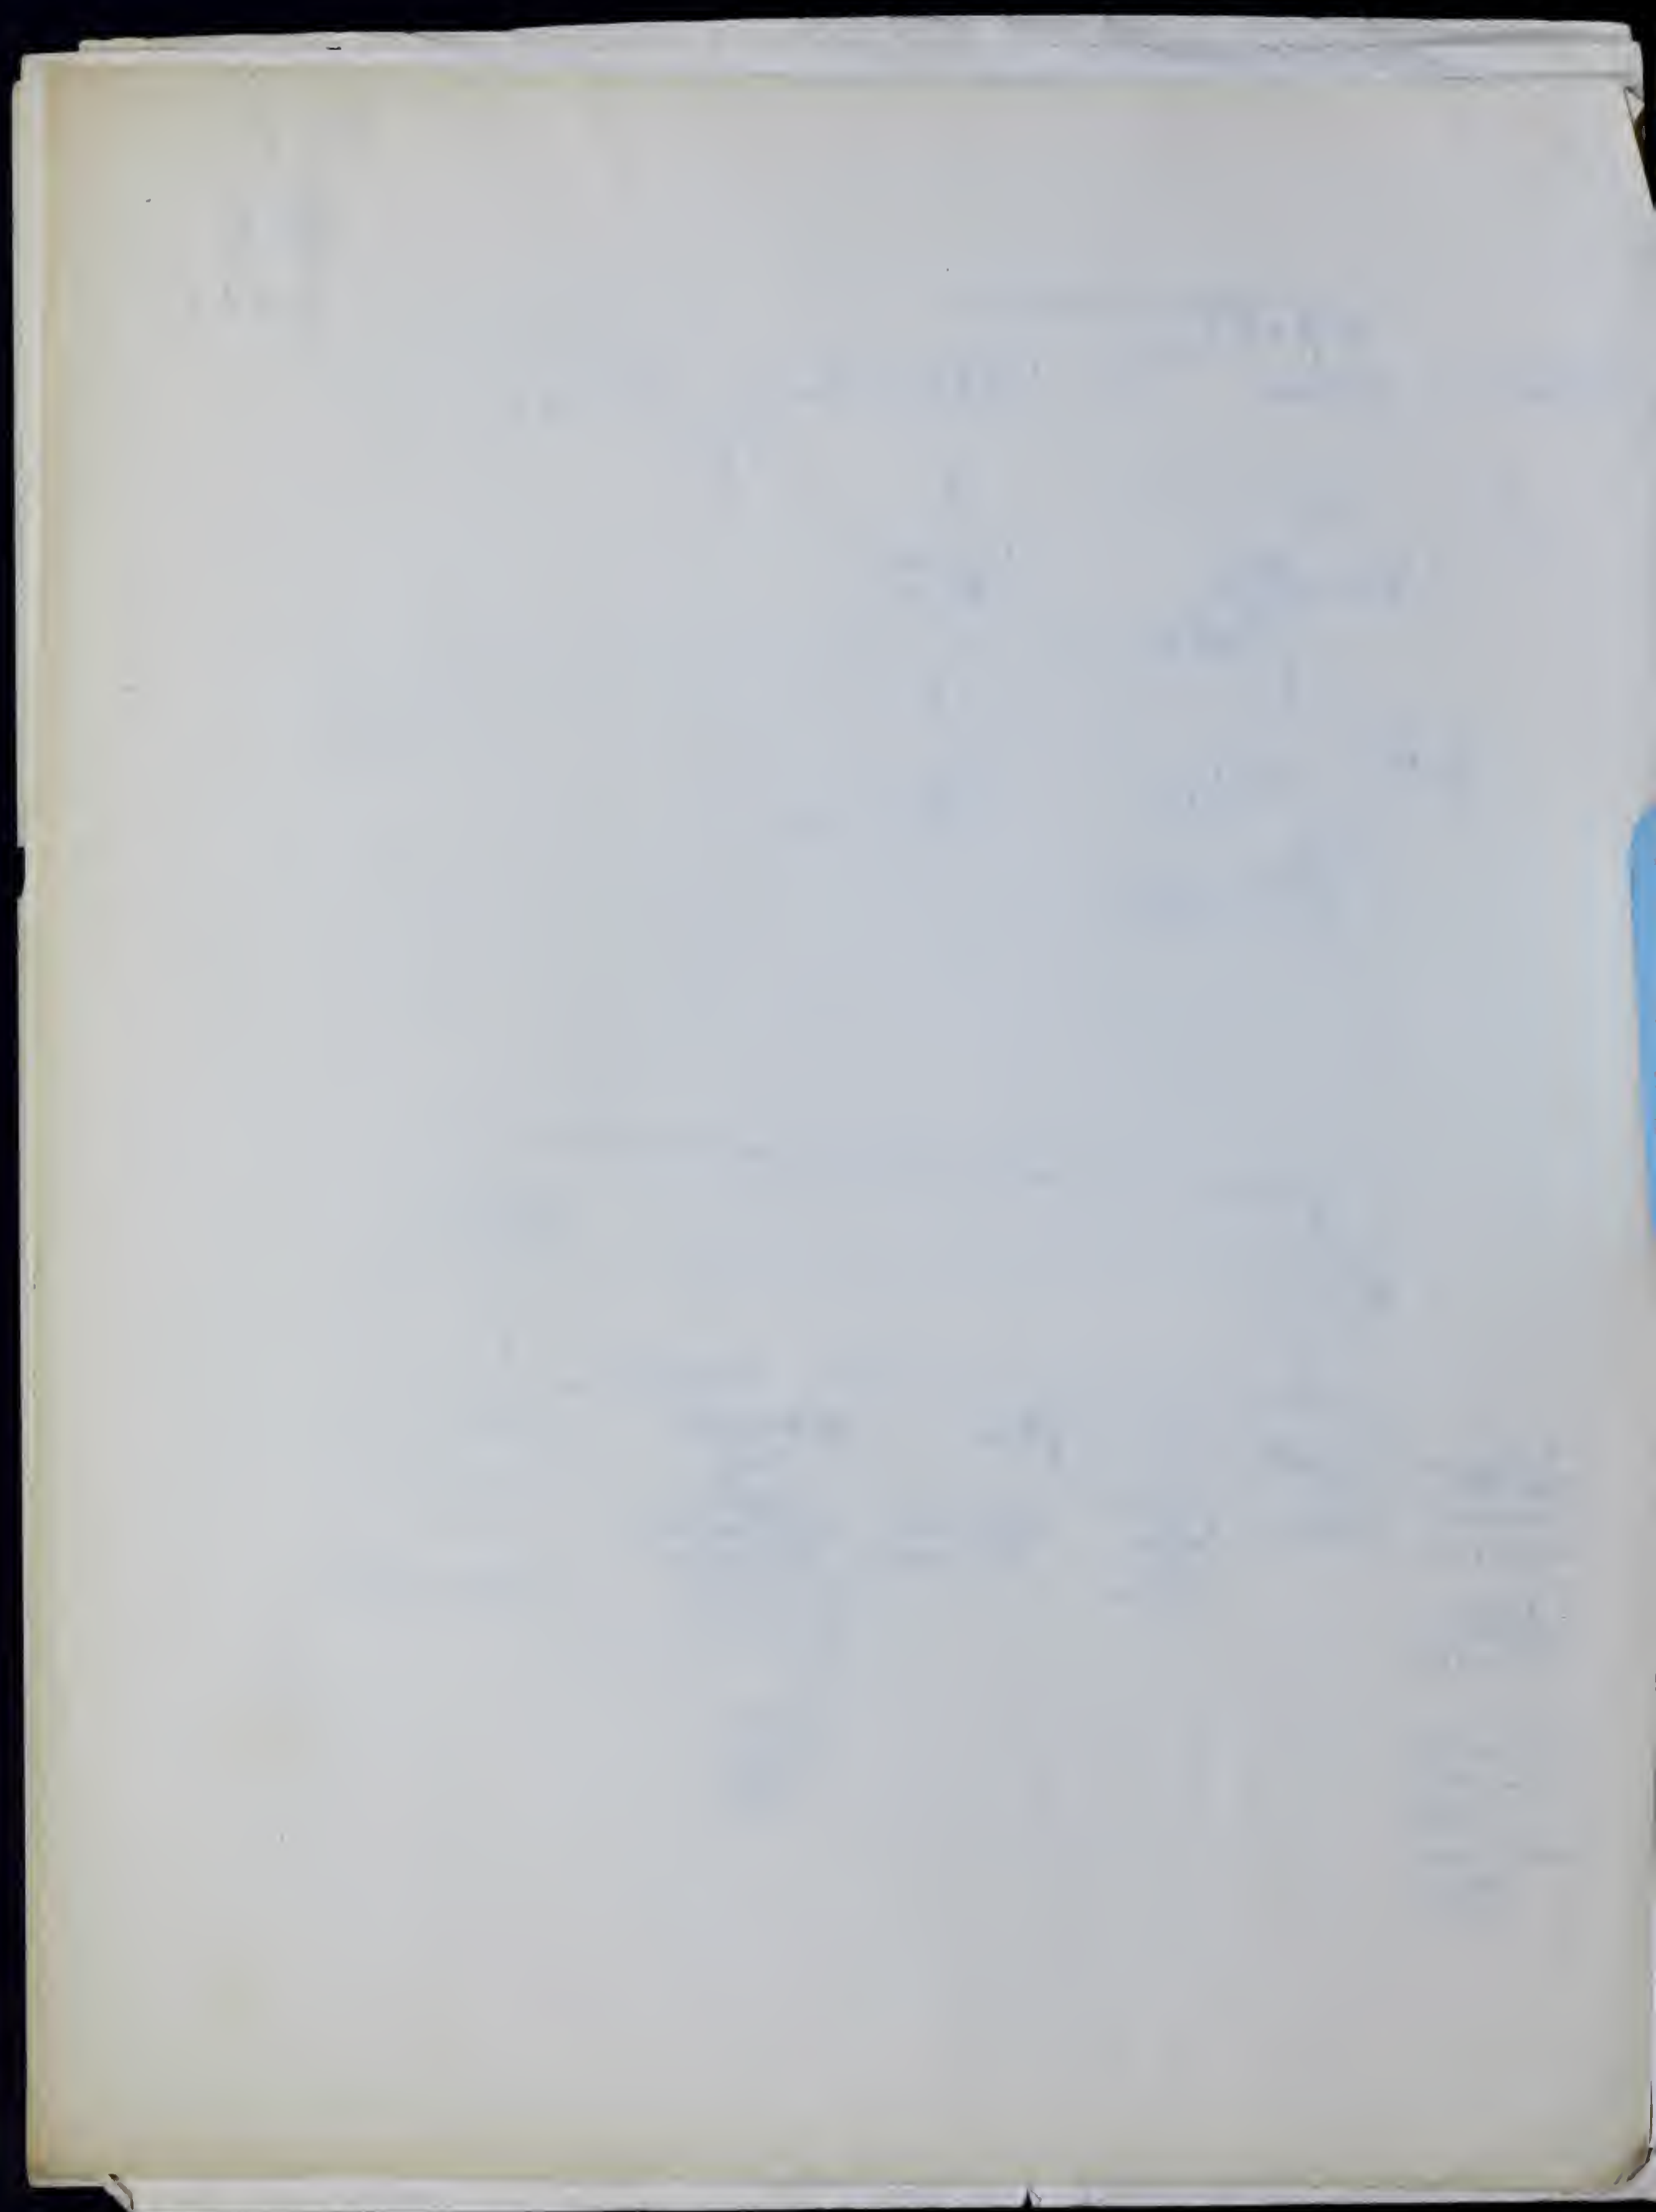

Any help you may be able to give us in establishing Jeremiah's exact place among the Amey patriarchs will be very much appreciated. I have no idea what your own connection with the Ameys may be, but I am hoping that you have knowledge of or access to the family records. There must surely be some?

Sincerely yours,

Geoffrey Gilbert.

Mr. I. L. Connors,
719 Island Park Drive,
Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Mr. Connors:

Many thanks for your letter and your desire to become a member of the newly-formed Bay of Quinte Branch of the U. E. L. Association. Our branch is in its second year, and membership has reached more than 160, which, you must agree, is encouraging to those of us in this locality who are interested in showing our respect to our Loyalist ancestors. In this connection, I am enclosing an application form for you to complete and return to me. The two dollars I shall retain until you return the application. If acceptable, as I have no doubt, the two dollars will cover you for the Branch year, which ends April 30, 1958. Incidentally, you do not need to show ancestral lines not involving Loyalist ancestors, although such information might be of value to future generations.

Now to answer your many questions. As far as I know, there is no published account of the Amey (Enigh) family, although I have a manuscript which I have been working on regarding the earlier generations. For more than thirty years I have been collecting information relative to the Loyalists of our district, more than six hundred files. Naturally, my Amey file has a very great deal of information, made up of more than a hundred pages of notes. In addition, I have two or three enlarged photos of the Amey home in Putnam County, New York State. This old stone house, dated 1740, with the initials NE (Nicholas Enigh) and date on the chimney. They were taken for me by a friend. You would enjoy them.

The Amey notes involve military records, cemetery records, church records, obituary notes, tax and voters' lists, three old diaries spanning most of the years from 1831 to 1900, etc., etc. The parish register of St. John's parish church are in the synod office in Kingston. They were published, except for the burials (which I copied for myself), in the Papers & Records, Ontario Hist. Society. I have a complete set. The Napanee Beaver, as well as the Napanee Express, has bound copies of the paper as far back as 1885, or thereabout. Queen's University has very early bound volumes of the High and of the News. Some of these I have seen, but searching through them is a tedious chore. Queen's also has the parish register of Rev. Robt. McEwail, Presbyterian, from 1898 to 1835. These have been published in Papers & Records (I have copied them). The Lutheran records have also been published in the same manner (I have a copy).

I have a copy of Loyalist Clarks & Badgleys. Also the Laughlins and Davys, both unbound genealogies of Loyalist Families. Loyalist Claims were published in 1904-5. I have copies of these. Incidentally, you could have a great deal of fun if you searched the census lists for these townships. They are in the Public Archives, Ottawa, for 1842, 1851, 1861 and 1871. The three diaries I referred to have numerous references to Aneys and their alliances. As I said before, they cover from 1831 to 1900, except for a few years after 1864.

There were two Aneys in the first settlement--Jonas and Nicholas--brothers. Each raised a large family, and by now their descendants must number in the several thousands. I have never tried to assemble all these. Instead, I have concentrated on the original Loyalists, their ancestry and their children and grandchildren. This information could then be used by living Aneys

Bath, Ont.

Dear Dr. Burleigh, This is only a note, but first I want to thank you for interesting and informative letter of Sept. 18.

I have filled out the application form that you kindly enclosed for candidates seeking election into the U.E.L.
Assoc. of Canada, but it is incomplete and I shall need your help.

I am planning to spend the coming week-end at Ernestown. My wife and I will motor down on Friday morning and I shall call you from my cousin Willie Honey's in the early afternoon.

I am very anxious to make your acquaintance and see your precious files. I am overwhelmed by your kindness to permit me studying your material. I would very much like to know what your own projected plans are, because I would not wish to use the material in any way that interfere with projects. When I am there I would like discuss with you if there is anything I can do to reciprocate by studying Archives files or consulting maps etc. I am no historian, but I might be able to be of some service.

✂ We plan to return to Ottawa on Sunday afternoon, so I will have free time all day Saturday in which to make a start on your documents or plan future excursions.

Again, my thanks for your excellent letter, and my hope of seeing you this coming week-end.

yours sincerely

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

In attempting to learn something about my mother's family. — She is N. Victoria Arney, now 94, dau. of Amerit Arney and grand-daughter of Peter Arney. I began to gather what I could of date and place of birth, date and place of death, place of burial, date and place of marriage, name of wife or husband, and her or his date and place of birth, and a biographical sketch. In the course of 3 months, I renewed my connections with the branches of the family that I had known before and made some contacts within the original branches of Peter's family.

Last Friday and Saturday week I visited Ernestown with my cousin Edna (Mrs Mc Cartney of Kingston). We called on ^{the} Willie Amey and on Flora (Mrs Robert Pomeroy) and her husband, and Mrs Ethel (Frances) Allen. They were all most helpful and a visit to the 'Union' cemetery provided a number of dates and names. I copied all the inscriptions I could find with the name Amey in them.

Mrs Pomeroy particularly suggested that I call on you for an account of your interest and knowledge of the U.E. Loyalists

I called Sat. morning to find you on a holiday, but I was pleasantly instructed by your two daughters. I hear that there is an active Bay of Quinte Branch of the U.E.L. Association. If it is in order I would like to become a member; please find enclosed $2.00 which I understand is the annual dues.

Before I proceed further I am anxious to know if there are any published or manuscript accounts of the Amey in Canada. I have seen 'Loyalist Clarks, Badgleys and Allied Families' by Estelle Clark Watson, Also Vol 1. of Dr. Hunt ~~Historical~~ Soc. Papers & Records 1899. I have also seen Pringle, J.F. 'Lunenburg, or the old eastern district. 1890 Cornwall.

I would like some instructions on how to proceed. Looking up old records.

Where is there a file of the Napanee
Beaver? Does the Kingston Whig-Standard have old files that may be consulted?

Titles and Wills for the district would be in Napanee?

Are ~~the~~ the original 'marriage record of Rev. John Langhorn' and the 'marriage record of St John's Church Ernest Town' preserved in Kingston in the Bishop's archives?

How many Amey's came to Canada - I settled in Ernestown 2 at Moscow? What were their names?

A visit to Charlie Amey
(near Enterprise); is this a good idea?

I hope to get down to Ernestown again this fall, when I shall make an effort to see you. Yours sincerely
John Langhorn

Dear Doctor Burlough,

Will you please send me a copy of your booklet, "The Avey Brothers of Ernestown" at $ 2.50 including postage ? (The postage rate for mail between Canada and Mexico is the same as inside Canada.) I inclose a check for $ 3.00 U.S. dollars. The extra 50 cents is to cover the bank charge for handling a foreign check. (Incidentally, I already have three of your booklets concerning the confiscations of Loyalist property that I purchased through the U.E. Loyalists' Association of Toronto).

Instead of writing a long explanation, I inclose a chart which will show you why I have an interest in Catherine Snyder Avey (David Avey's wife). Maybe, in your booklet, I shall find some information which will further my research.

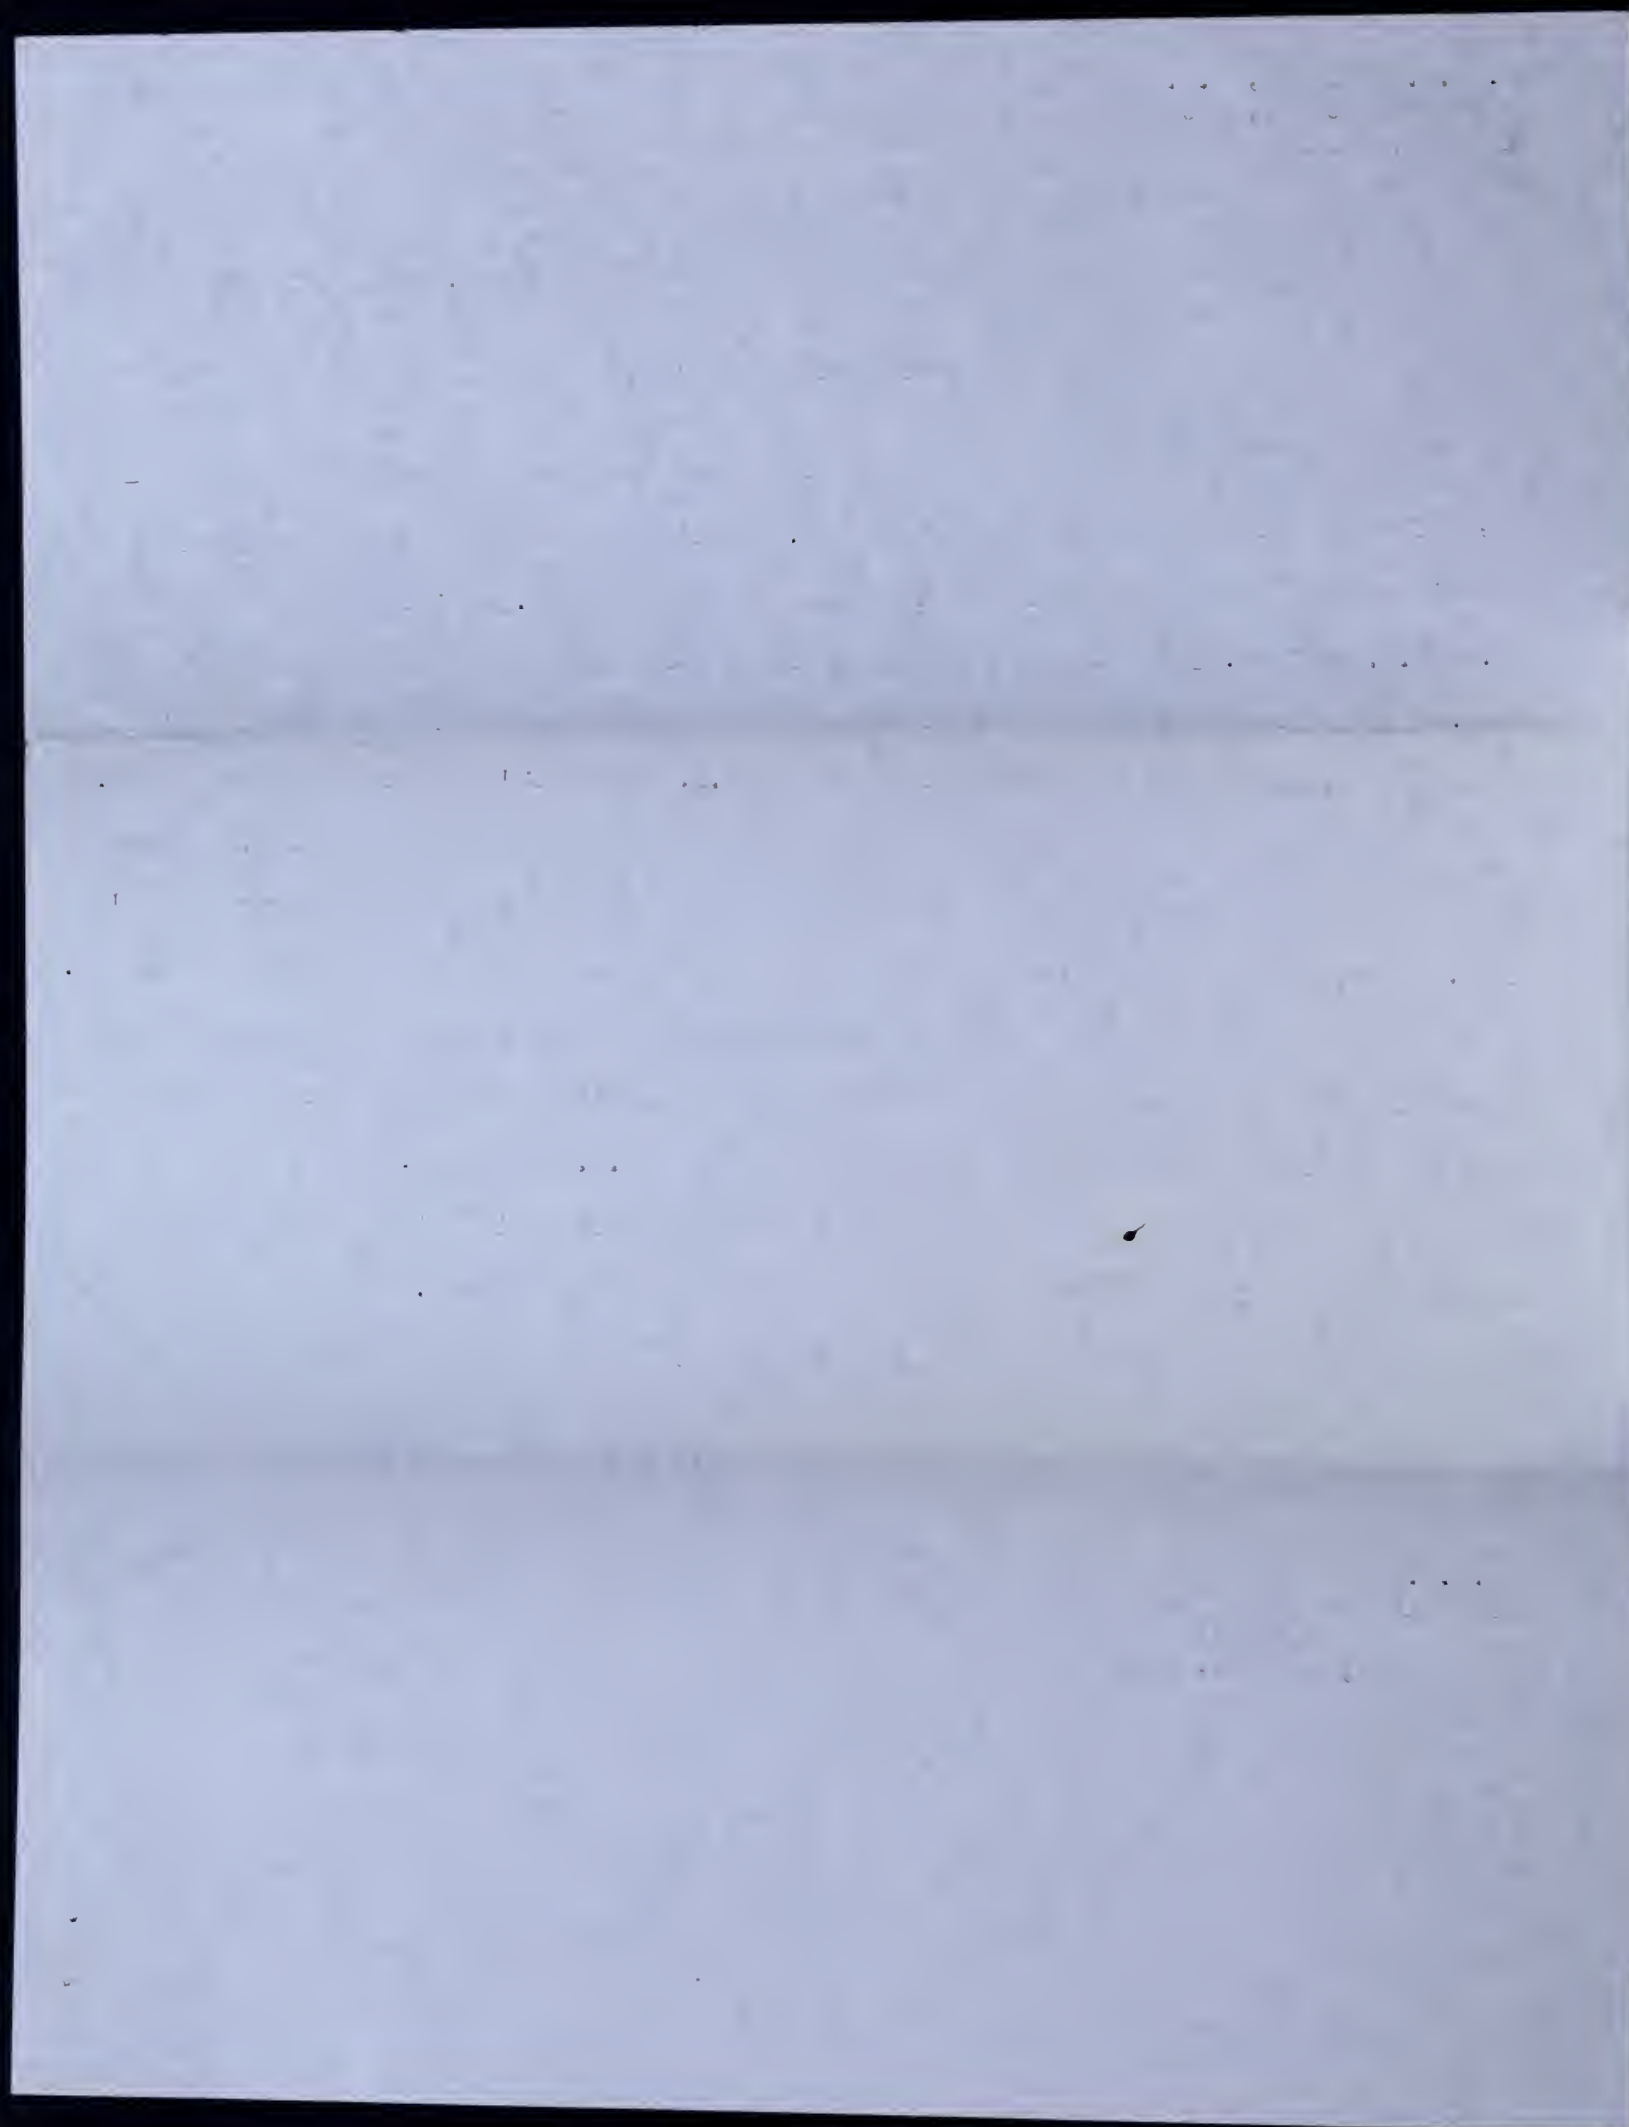

I take this opportunity to congratulate you on your induction into the Most Honourable Order of Meritorious Heritage last May and on all the extraordinary research you have done concerning U.E. Loyalists.

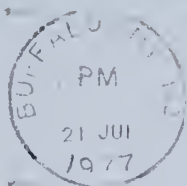

I hope this letter will find you in good health and good spirits despite the terrible winter you had in Canada.

Dear Sir:

It was not too long ago that I discovered my greatgrandmother's maiden name was Alice Amey who had married my great grandfather Charles A. Humber of Goderich, Ontario. Excited by this information, I travelled to Bath, Ontario yesterday and met Wm. Amey, a descendent of the original Amey settlers, who, I understand, arrived in Ontario about 1804.

I write you because Wm. Amey (aged 70 yrs) directed me to you, stating that you were very knowledgeable of the Amey "family tree". Consequently, I'm wondering if by chance you might have any information regarding Alice Amey who died about 1910, who was the daughter, I believe, of a Jeremiah Amey, whose father was also known as Jeremiah Amey.

Any information regarding Alice Amey you might have would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Charles J. Humber

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Thank you for your good letter of May 15 and for the enclosed schematic plan of my ancestry which you so kindly took the time and trouble to draw up for me.

Mrs G. Russell Boucher, Membership Convener, Sir Guy Carleton Branch was pleased to receive the copy of the membership application form used by the Bay of Quinte Branch.

Mrs Boucher spent an evening with me some time ago and we read the item 5(a) pg.3 in a copy of the By-Laws of the Bay of Quinte Branch, which you mention in your letter. We decided that item made it clear that I should apply for membership in the Sir Guy Carleton Branch here in Ottawa.

Mrs Boucher is a Loucks whose family settled in the Crysler Farm area. She is Vice President here as well as Membership Convener. I gather that your by-laws were well studied by our executive when this branch was organized.

By the way, I am wondering if the above mentioned by-law might bear some further thought and possible change by the association. My feeling is that one would prefer to unite with the Branch where the family tree sprouted in Canada - and of course be actively associated in the Association's work wherever one happened to live - a sort of, keep the tribes together, idea. I am by no means an Ottawa Valley woman at heart even after fifty years of residence in the Capital city.

Two mornings spent in the Archives reading micro-film yielded some interesting items about Nicolas Amey, Frederick Baker, David Hartman and Lewis Hicks. The items I checked chiefly covered claims and land grants. I only scratched the surface of material that is available.

So far I have not settled the question of Jemima Hicks' parentage. In the account of the Hicks family given in Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, a Jemima Hicks is listed as the second child of John Hicks and Harriet Maston. This John Hicks was the third child of Joshua Hicks, a brother of the spy, Edward Hicks. Perhaps this is my Jemima.

You may be sure I will follow up this quest as time and energy permit. Visitors and household duties etc have recently put me off the trail for the present.

Your letter deserved a prompt reply but I delayed hoping to have a lot more information from the Archives to report to you.

Regardless of what Mr. Howard W. Warner, Sir Guy Carleton Branch Genealogist may do, you have done a good deal of work covering my application. So please accept the enclosed small token of appreciation and thanks for your efforts on my behalf and the U.E.L.

At some later date I may make use of the application form which you so kindly signed as my proposer.

Yours sincerely,

Ada J. Johnston

Mrs. Ma J. Johnston,

Dear Mrs.(?) Johnston:

I do not have your earlier letter, so I put a query mark after Mr 'Mrs.' If I am wrong, please accept my apology.

This is Sunday, my day for catching up on my correspondence. Hence this letter. My week days are too uncertain for me to start a letter, so I labor on Sunday.

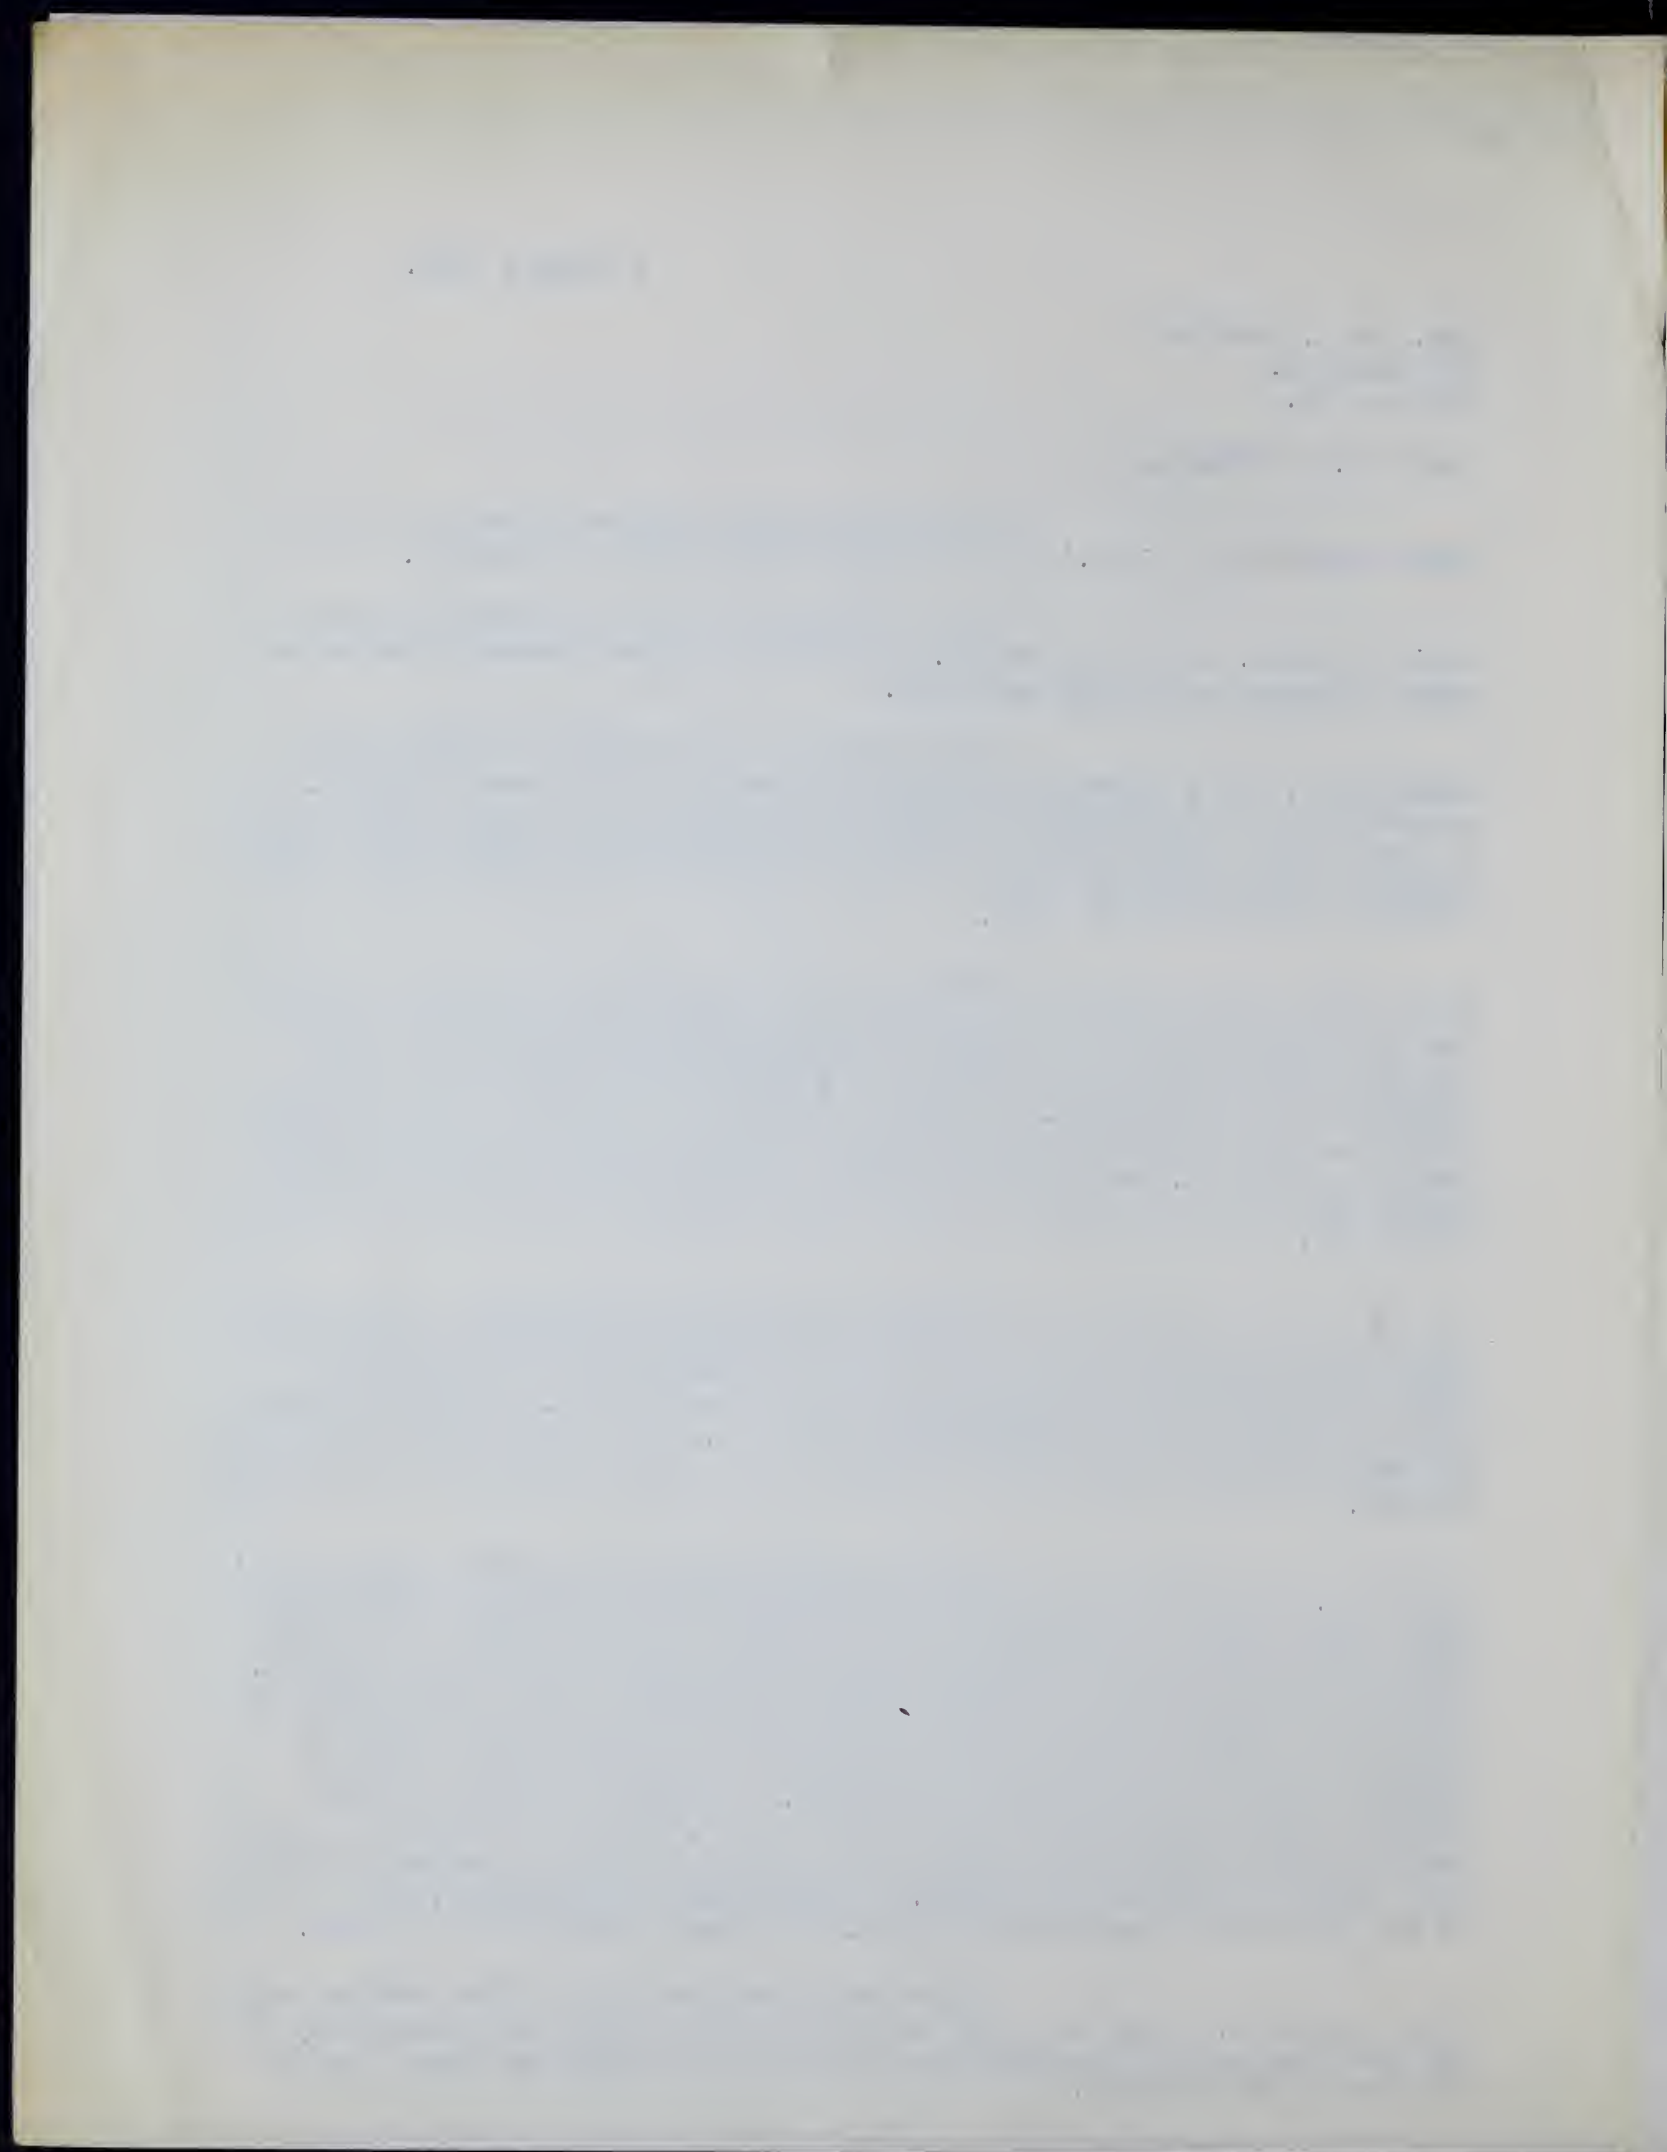

I can appreciate your attitude regarding your choice of U. E. L. Branches with which you would like to become a member. I am sure that my reaction would coincide with yours in the same situation. But I, fortunately, reside within a mile of the spot where my great, great grandfather, a boy of fifteen, slept his first night in 'The Promised Land' under a fallen tree by the Bay shore.

There is, however, another side to the question. If we joined the Branch where our roots are located, there would be a very few Branches, such as Bay of Quinte, Niagara, Cornwall (if a Branch were started there) Halifax and Fredericton. There possibly might be Branches established in other areas. But these would be run by members from the parent Branches. And, if you know our members as I do, you would soon realize that many are "joiners". Once they have joined and established that they are descended from a Loyalist they fold their arms and ghost, leaving all activities to the few.

Perhaps that is why the Originators of our Association decided to place the cart before the horse, deciding that applicants must join the Branch in their home town, with the right and privilege of affiliating with the Branch located in the "Promised Land." Indeed, it might well be argued that the opposite should prevail. And I see no good reason why the whole problem should not be discussed at a formal meeting of the Dominion Council.

I am sure that you are wrong about Jerina Hicks' parentage. Just recall that Jerina was married 23 Sept., 1790, in Trurotown, where Lewis Hicks, a Loyalist soldier had settled in the Summer of 1704 with two daughters over 10 years of age, one of whom might well have been Jerina. Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte contains an article on the Hicks family. It reveals that Edward Hicks and four sons lived in Philadelphia in 1776. It states that Edward and sons, Edward, Joseph & Joshua, all joined Butler's Rangers, which had headquarters in Niagara. ((I have just spent an hour looking for my Hicks file. I failed to find it)). The best I can write is that the book just mentioned shows that Joseph, older brother of Joshua, died in 1815, aged 48 years (born in 1767). If Joshua was a year younger, born in 1763, he was only 22 when Jerina was married. That should answer your question.

I have just found your letter (the previous one) in my Avey file. I note that you are retired and familiar with libraries. My not give your name to the Archives as one who will undertake search for outsiders--me, for instance.

I found out that I was getting off the bottom of the previous sheet.

Such search, in many instances, is simple. Looking up a name in the Census of 1851, 1861, 1871. All these are on microfilm. Then there are land applications records in Haldimand Papers, etc., etc., etc. Think it over. I have paid the usual price of $2.00 per hour to a Miss Story, a retired Archives employee. But, it is so difficult to get her to do anything, as she is overworked on far more difficult & complicated research for authors & that type of person.

Give my regards to Mr. Connors, Mr. Warner and anyone else who might remember me at the Sir Guy Carleton Branch.

Yours sincerely,

Miss Ada J. Johnston,
208 Flora St.,
Ottawa 4, Ont.

Dear Miss Johnston:

Your letter of 2nd ult., arrived a few days before I took off on a trip. Then, on my return I couldn't find it. However, it turned up a few days ago deep in a pile of notes. So, I must answer it before I lose it again.

The clippings which you enclosed, and which I am returning, were most interesting. I knew much of the story of Granny Hartman from other sources. You see she was a most lovable character, according to all reports.

I am keeping, at your request, the pages dealing with your ancestry. In return, I am enclosing a schematic plan of your ancestry. To this I have added a few notes. At the same time I have encircled in red the names of your Loyalist ancestors--Nicholas Aney, Frederick Baker, Peter Davy, Sr., David Hartman, Philip Hartman, Barnabas Hough, Martin Stover. You should use all names on your application form.

As you will see in the notes I have added to this schematic plan, you may have additional Loyalist ancestors. Lewis Hicks came in with a family, and I suspect that Jermina Hicks, wife of John Stover, was his daughter, although I have no proof. Likewise, Margaret Sover, wife of Nicholas Aney, can be considered a sister of Martin Stover, U. E., although I doubt if her name can be used as that of a Loyalist, considering that her husband is already named.

There is another matter which must be considered. We would welcome you as an applicant as descendant of Loyalists. There is, however, in our Constitution a clause which states that we cannot accept applicants who reside in a city where there is already a Branch of the Association. In other words, your application should really go to the Ottawa Branch. Then, having become a member there, you could then apply for membership in our Branch. In this regard, I suggest that you talk with Mr. Connors and other Ottawa members on this point. You might even consult with the Dominion Council of the Society which has its office in Toronto.

In the meantime I am enclosing two of our application forms, one of which I have signed as your proposer. Use them as you wish, and the best of luck with them.

My wife, who recalls her classmate, and I send our best wishes to you.

Yours sincerely,

208 Flora St.
Ottawa 4, Ont.

April 2, 1963.

Dr. H.C. Burleigh
Bath
Ontario.

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

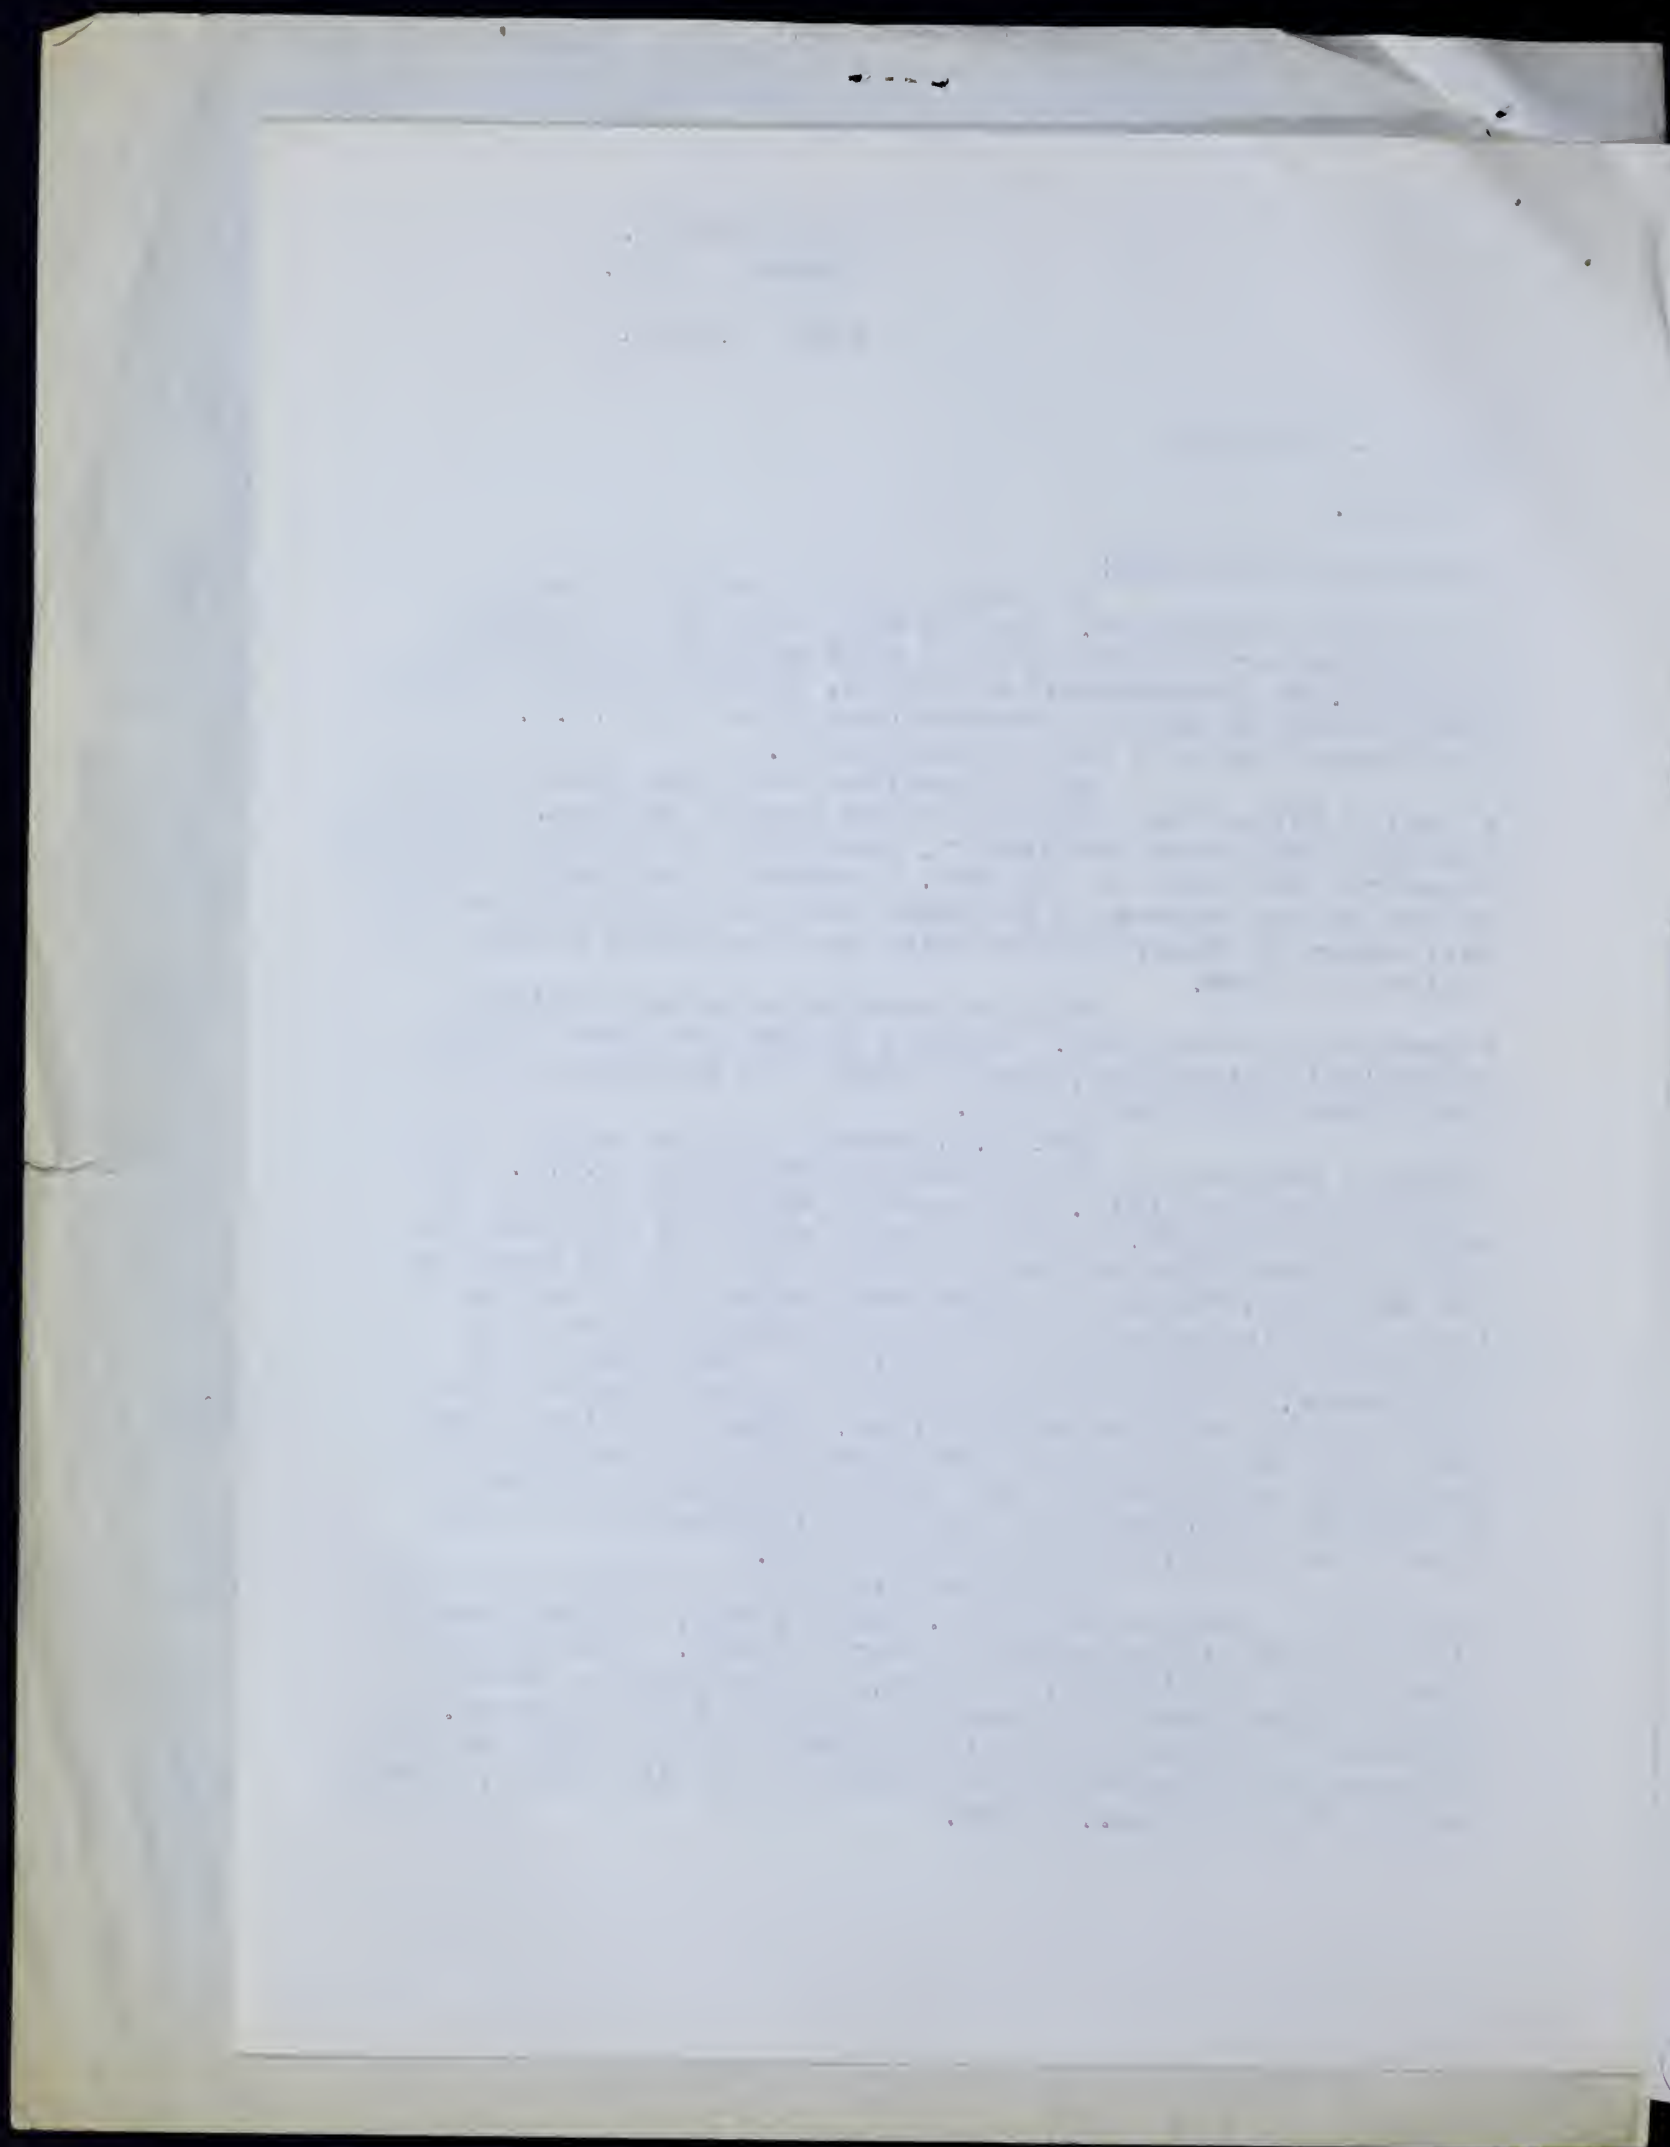

At last I am reporting to you on my Loyalist ancestors. As you will see, it is through my grandmother Johnston that I make my claim to Loyalist ancestry. My grandmother's husband, Samuel Johnston, was ~~not~~ born in Canada but his parents came from the U.S.A. so that eliminates him from the Loyalist list.

My information has been gleaned from a family Bible that belongs to Mrs Robert Pomeroy, Pringle's The Old Lunenburg Settlement, newspaper clippings (enclosed herewith) the copy of the Rev. Langhorn's marriage register in the County Museum in Napanee, and the Centennial of the Settlement of Upper Canada which was published in 1885 by Hunter and Rose.

Pringle frequently quotes Sabine's Biography of the U.E.L. As yet, I have not seen a copy of Sabine's Biography. When I visit the Archives, one of these days, I'll look it up.

Mr. I.L. Conners invited me to attend a meeting of the Ottawa Branch of the U.E.L. Assn. one evening last fall. We heard an excellent talk by a youthful archivist, a Miss Wilson, who told us about the material available on the Loyalists that can be found in the Archives. There is a good deal more than I had realized, particularly in the way of correspondence with government authorities over claims to land grants and assistance. I'm looking forward to spending a few afternoons in the Archives before long. When I retired from the civil service, I was Librarian, Bu. of Transportation Economics, so I know my way around government offices. It will be interesting to see what information, if any, I can find pertaining to my ancestors.

Enclosed are lists of said ancestors, as far as I have traced them. These lists, you may keep if they are of any value to your records. The newspaper items were contributed, I think, to the Napanee Beaver by Mrs Alfred Amey, who was a daughter of Dr. Spankie. Elizabeth Spankie was Mr. Alfred Amey's first wife and she no doubt was acquainted with many of the old timers. Please return the clippings, to me.

On account of my great-great-grandmother Hartman's long life of 102 years, I had the good fortune to know her in my girlhood. She was then a member of Nicholas³ Amey's household, as was her daughter Emily (Nicholas's wife) and my grandmother, Oriana. Not every little girl had three grandmothers living under one roof! We Johnstons always spent our summer holidays with these folk, in Ernesttown.

In my bed room hangs a photo of Granny Hartman in an old fashioned oval frame. Also there is a picture of the five generations (Granny Hartman, Grandma Amey, "Nannie" Johnston, my father and myself at the age of four) of which Flora Pomeroy has a good copy. Among other treasured keepsakes are Granny Hartman's hand embroidered sampler Remember Thy Creator, a lovely old daguerreotype of the lady, her sample quilt block (The steps to the Throne) which is mute evidence of her skill as a needlewoman and her thrift, and there are also three of her nightcaps. Until recently, I had Granny Hartman's carved wedding ring. I gave it to Flora's niece, Donna Lakins of East Camden. So you see Jemima Stover, daughter of Loyalists, has always been very much with me and hence her importance among my ancestors. In my childhood the "good, kind, gentle" Granny Hartman was certainly queen among her decedents - Victoria Regina was a dim, distant and unimportant personage in comparison. All this, so you will understand why I want Jemima in my records.

It was a pleasure to meet you and your wife when I was visiting Flora and Bert Pomeroy last fall. It might interest your wife to know that I saw a charming picture of her as a graduating nurse when I was visiting my cousin Mrs Harry Dillon here at Christmas time. Mr Dillon's first wife was in the same graduating class. He was very interested when I told him about my trip to Ernesttown and Bath and so showed me Mrs Burleigh's picture.

If this gives you enough information to enable you to get me into the fold - over the wall or through the gate - please send me an application form for the Quinte Branch. I'd like a second copy to give to Mrs Russell Boucher, Secretary of the Membership Committee, Ottawa Branch. Mrs Boucher and I think the form used here is not comprehensive enough.

As my claim is through my grandmother Mary Oriana Amey, and both her parents were of Loyalist stock, that will take in the Heartmans and Stovers as well as the Ameys.

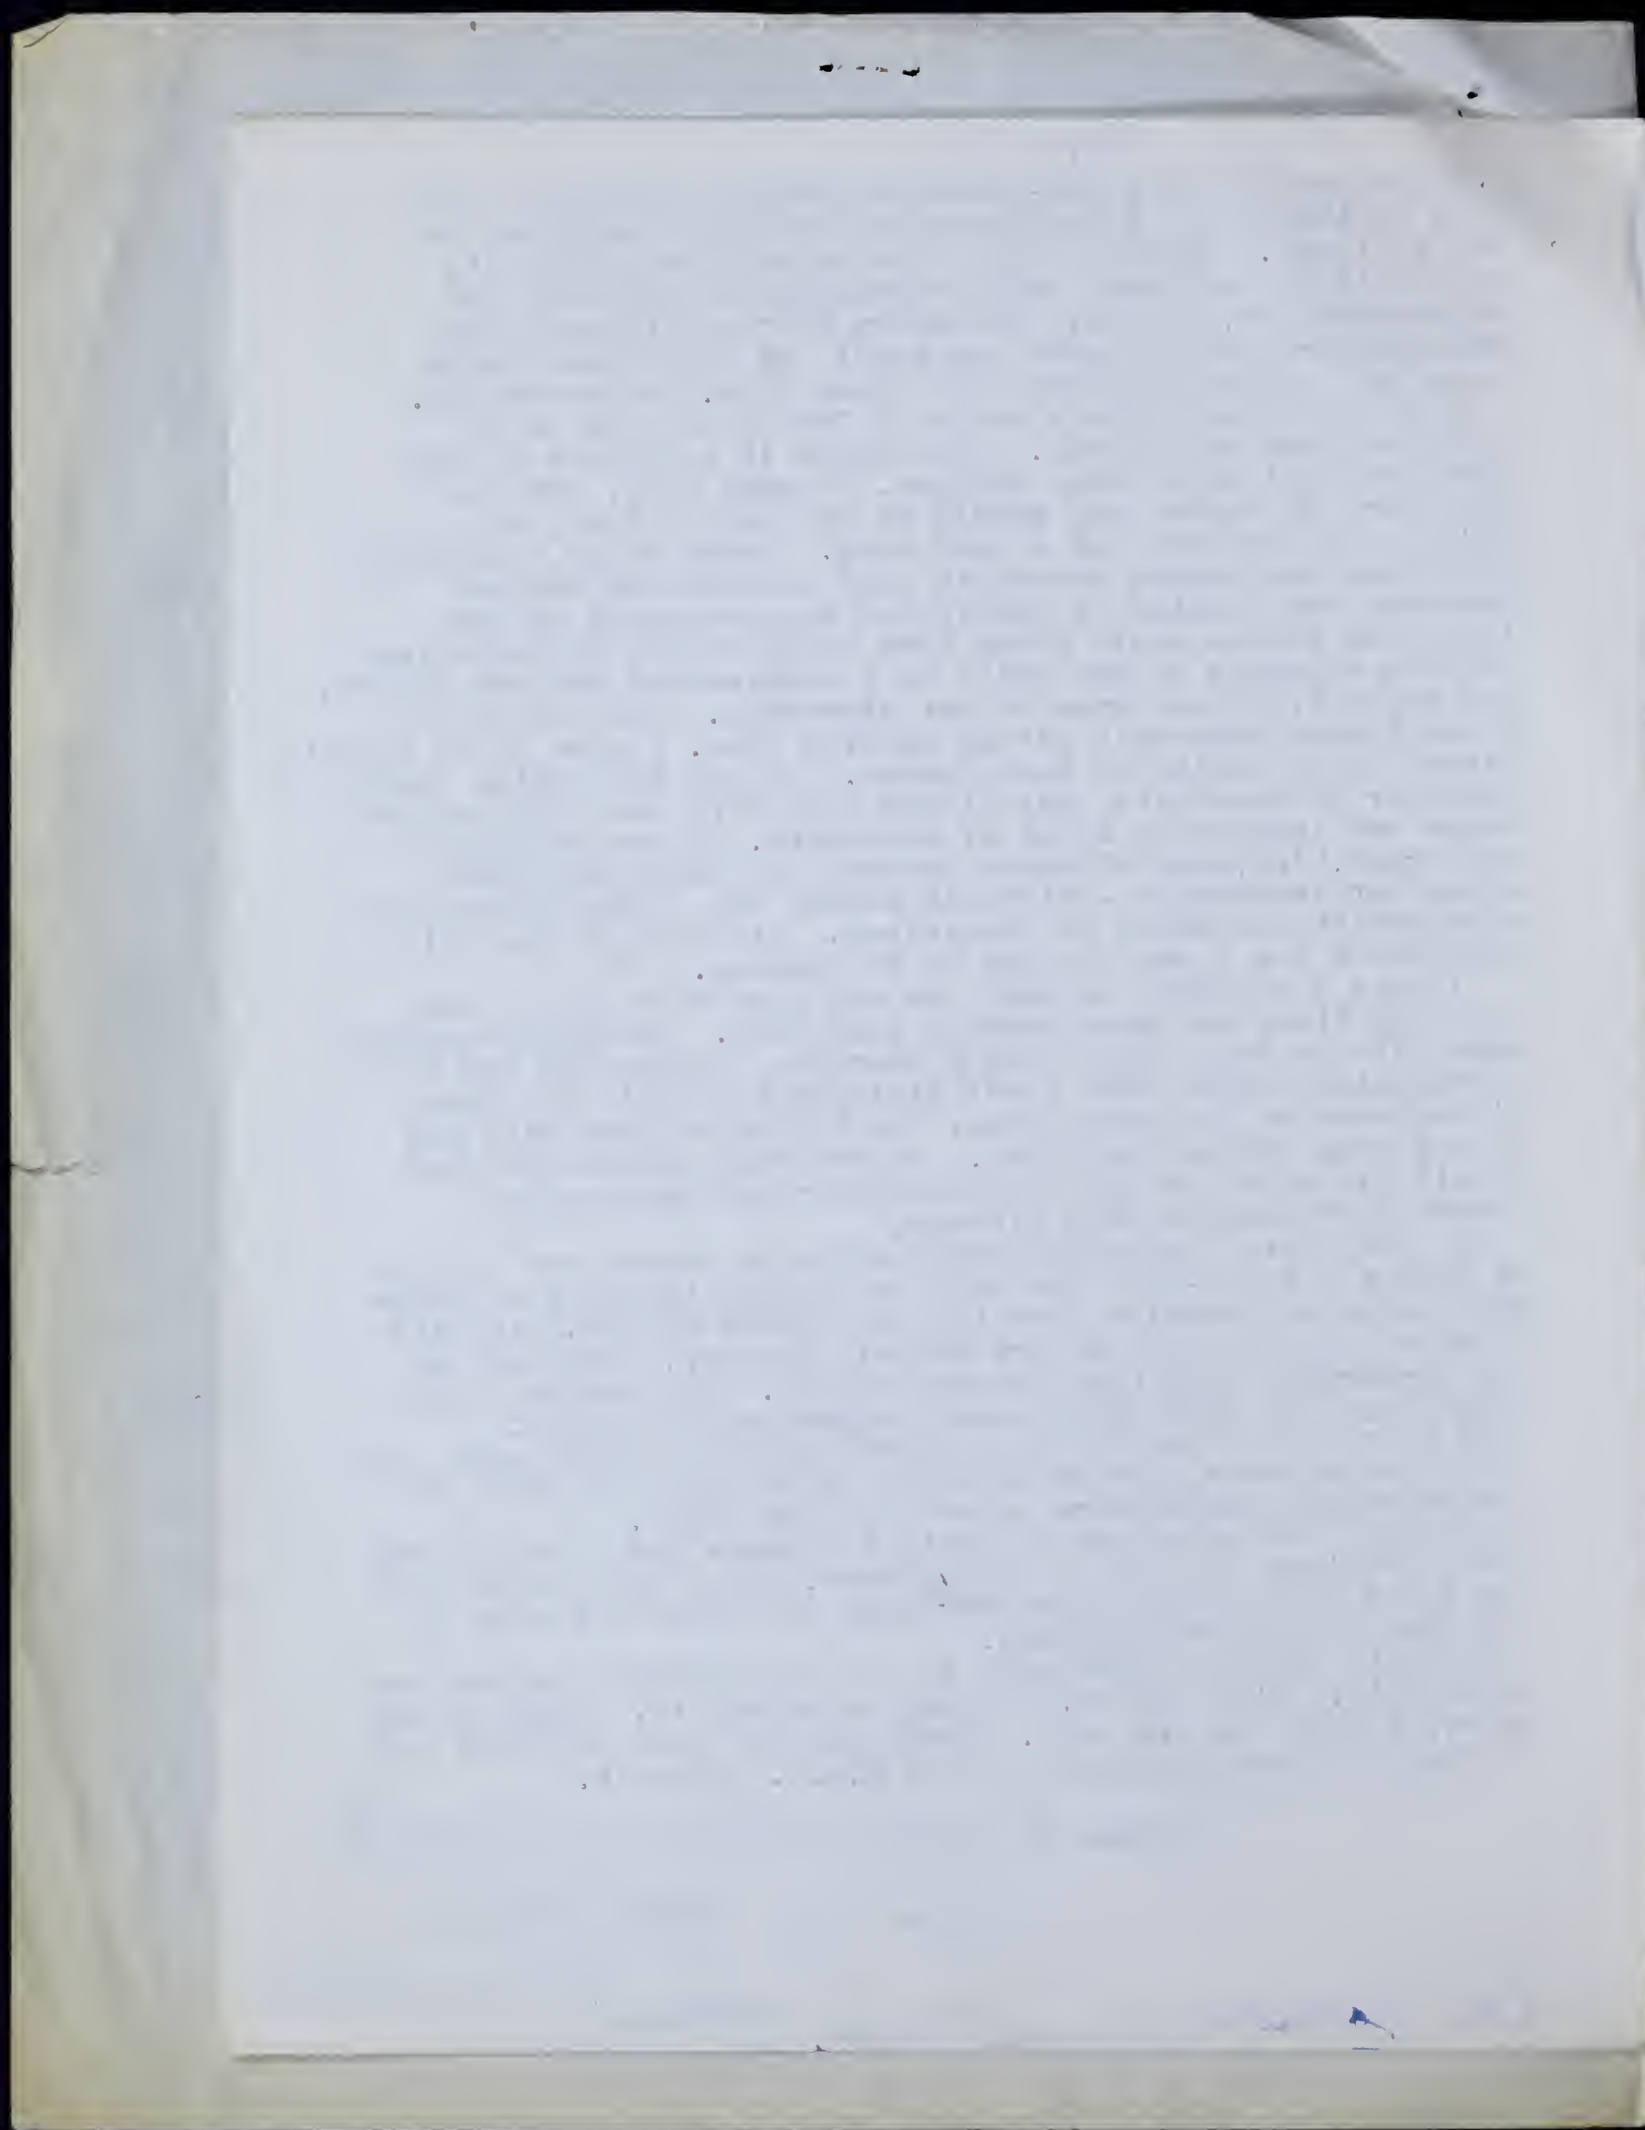

Among my treasures are a chest of drawers and a metal lamp that I believe belonged to Mary Baker. And I want to mention the sword worn by Nicholas Amey when he joined the army at the time of the Fenian Raids.

It will please me very much if you can and will propose my membership. I'll ask Mr. Connors to second it. There is no hurry. I know you are busy. Thank you for your interest and I wish you every success in your U.E.L. research.

Yours to the hilt of my sword,

Ede J. Johnston.

By Eric Nicol:

Speed Review Needed

What would you do if you knew that a small child was going to be lashed to a seat for hours while sent hurtling helplessly into highway traffic? Call the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children? Throw yourself in front of the vehicle? Ask Abby?

This, I gather, is the situation inherent in the campaign to make seat belts in cars compulsory by law. Presumably it will also be compulsory to fasten the seat belts, regardless of the active child's need to bounce around. Above Father's head the sign will light up — FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELTS SVP — and Mother will pass around the chiclets and lifesavers.

From compulsory seat belts it will be a quick and logical step to compulsory crash helmets. Then we'll all be indistinguishable from the stuntmen who ram jalopies into one another at county fairs. Just for a lark, Gran-

Eric Nicol nie, we may do a couple of roll-overs and smash through a flaming wall, but you'll be okay so long as you don't swallow your teeth.

Stop me if I'm in the wrong lane, friend, but isn't it time we reviewed the entire purpose of the automobile and decided whether the spectacle of grim people belted into high-speed projectiles really represents Progress and the Good Life?

Is it so important to race from point A to point B, without noticing anything en route except other lunatics racing from point B to point A, that we must pinion ourselves to our seats?

What is today's motorist? A man who wants to relax with the countryside? Or some kind of nut in shining armor, so hustle-bound that his foot hits the floor if you so much as say "Pass the butter?"

The automobile started out promisingly enough. The driver wore goggles and dust-coat in the open touring car, but at 25 mph this equipment was mostly sportive. He invited his girl to come for a ride in his "merry" Oldsmobile. When did cars stop being merry and become—motorists who seem to think they are Stirling Moss.

Sexual lust and money lust are regularly decried, but neither wreaks anything like the slaughter caused by speed lust, which is carefully cultivated by the largest industry in the country.

Speed lust having ruined the automobile, I envisage a comeback for the horse-drawn carriage, a vehicle designed for civilized human beings rather than a trussed space monkey.

Compulsory seat belts, indeed.

Deaths and Funerals

JOHN SOLOMON AMEY

John Solomon Amey, 83, RR 4, Odessa, was buried in Union cemetery recently following his Oct. 7 death after a short illness. 1962.

Born in Odessa, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashton Amey family for four generations on the Odessa farm on which he worked as a farmer. He retired from farming three years ago.

The Amey farm was a Crown grant and had been in the Amey family for four generations. Three adjacent grants were made to three Amey brothers. John Amey's is the last to remain in the family.

The Amey family are of Dutch descent and originally spelled their name Emigh. They first settled in the New England States.

Mr. Amey attended Odessa United church, was a member of the Order of the Chosen Friend and a director of Ernest Rural Telephone Company.

Predeceased by his wife Ella who died only a month previously, he is survived by two sons, Charles, Toronto, and J. Ivan, Kingston; one daughter, Marie Kelsey, Nanaimo, B.C.; four grandchildren, Anne and Helen Kelsey, Nanaimo, and Paul and Patricia Amey, Kingston.

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. Speer from Jones Funeral Home, Odessa.

Pall-bearers were Roy Hartman, Walter Snider, Joseph Rogers, Hershel Snider, Lester Hogle and Fraser Allen.

Granted Wish; Named After Him

nt Taking him at his word, New Zealanders have named two geysers in the Orakeikorako thermal region of the North Island the Lord Cobham and Lady Cobham Geysers.

These are not strictly new geysers. They had been quiescent for about 16 years. But last June they began playing again, presumably as a result of the change in water level of a nearby river. Now they erupt about every 20 minutes.

The Lady Cobham Geyser is a large boiling pool of clear blue water. It plays with a surging action. The Lord Cobham Geyser throws steam and water to a height of more than 30
